MARK YOUR CALENDAR!

The 2023 SG Summer Fun Day & Golf Outing will be Friday, June 16 at Autumn Ridge Golf Course. Save the date! You won't be disappointed.

SG Hospitality the Weekend of January 14 & 15 will be hosted by the Liturgy Committee. Stop after Mass to say hello to fellow parishioners and have a snack.

A Bake Sale at SG after Masses the Weekend of January 21 & 22 will be sponsored by Caring Hearts and Hands. Caring Hearts and Hands is an outreach group working to stay connected with our homebound parishioners and those in assisted living or nursing homes through cards, gifts, and visits. They also send mailings several times throughout the year to young adult parishioners serving in the military. In addition, they help others through donations to area non-profits. Support SG Caring Hearts and Hands by supporting the bake sale. Thank you!

Thank You to the HT Christmas decorating team of Dennis Albright, Sam & Jane Barnett, Brian Hartlaub, Carol Heinzen, Mary Hinz, Billy O'Neil, Randy & Sandy Neils, and Al & Sandy Salzman. Everything is simply beautiful!

Bible Study 9 am at Holy Trinity has started I Chronicles. I Chronicles covers some of the same ground as Kings. I Chronicles is concerned with David and God's viewpoint of the struggling nation of Israel. I Chronicles may be a convenient starting point for anyone who is interested in joining the group. This is a nonintrusive type of Bible Study with participation as much or as little as you want.

HT will Take Down Christmas Decorations on Wednesday, January 11. Arrive at church at 9am if you are able to help.

HT Christian Women Calendars: If you have any calendars that you have not turned in yet, please do. Thank you to everyone that sold and bought them. It was another successful year. Good luck to everyone!

Help Us Free Up some Storage Space—Free Baskets: These baskets are in the hall at Holy Trinity for the taking. They were used for the silent auction of the Perch Fry and are no longer needed. Help yourself.

Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: The magi see a new star and are the very few who see and correctly interpret its meaning. They saw the star because they were paying attention; they were scholars who studied the stars. When they started their study, the magi could not have imagined themselves bearing witness to such a hugely unique event. Only once in history will this happen. The birth of Jesus changes the universe in ways far more significant than the appearance of a new celestial body. For the magi, a lifetime of cultivating knowledge and attentiveness culminated in this exceptional moment. They were called to come pay homage to a newborn king. For us, too, our interests and skills can become places of encounter with the God who made all things and who gave us the talents we have.

To Experience: The magi found signs of God's saving work in their study of astronomy, an interest and talent that was itself a gift from God. God endows us with an astonishing variety of passions and gifts, and all of these can reveal God to the world in different ways. The fact that our interests vary is precisely why we are given each other; we each reveal a different facet of God's infinite goodness and beauty.

Epiphany Blessing 20+C+M+B+23

The numbers represent the year (2023). The letters represent both the names of the Magi (Casper, Melchior, and Balthasar) and the phrase "Christus Mansionem Benedicat," which is Latin for "May Christ Bless the House."

Lord, God,
 you revealed your Son
 to every nation
 by the guidance of a star.
 Bless this house and all who inhabit it. May we be blessed with health, goodness of heart, gentleness and the keeping of your law. Fill us with the light of Christ, that our love for each other may go out to all. We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Year of Mary October 1, 2022 to December 8, 2023

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

This Sunday, we celebrate the Epiphany of the Lord. In the Gospel of Matthew, we hear the familiar story of the Magi from the East who come to search for the new-born king, and to offer them their precious gifts.

What I find interesting is that the Magi are primarily concerned with what they give to Jesus, rather than what Jesus can give to them. How would it change our experience of Mass if we approached the celebration of the Eucharist in the same way?

At each Mass, we hear the priest say these words during the offertory, "Pray, brothers and sisters, that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable to God, the Almighty Father" (emphasis added). What is the sacrifice that you offer?

The Second Vatican Council taught that Mass is primarily an act of worship. We don't use that word "worship" often, but it means to give to God what he deserves. He deserves our praise, and sacrifices. People will sometimes say they do not come to Mass because they "don't get anything out of it." It's hard to understand how someone can truthfully say that they "don't get anything out of Mass," since at Mass we receive the Word of God proclaimed as a living Word, and we receive the Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus, when we receive the Eucharist. We get a lot out of coming to Mass!

But even if we feel that we don't receive anything from coming to Mass, nonetheless, we should imitate the Magi and come to Mass not to receive anything but rather to offer the gifts of our time, talent, and treasure to God. These words are echoed beautifully by the popular prayer often attributed to St. Francis of Assisi: "...for it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life."

What can we offer to the Lord? Again, we look to the example of the Magi. They offered gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. While each of these gifts have a symbolic value, it is also true that they are expensive and rare. These gifts were the very best gifts that they could offer. So, while we may not have gold, frankincense, and myrrh to bring forward, we too should offer our very best gifts. Perhaps, we could offer the Lord our undivided attention, rather than distracted thoughts during our times of prayer and during the celebration of the sacred liturgy. Time is more precious than gold, and hence the time we spend in prayer is a sacrifice most precious to the Lord.

Each of us has different gifts and talents to offer Him. But the principle is the same for us all. Whatever we offer to the Lord should not be marginal or from our leftovers. Rather, in imitation of the Magi, we should offer the best that we have.

We should not hesitate in our generosity with the Lord. The Magi returned to their native land with more than they gave because the Lord filled them with the richness of His Word. Whatever we give to the Lord, He receives, He transforms, He multiplies, and He returns it to us. We see this in the Eucharist. We offer Him bread and wine. He receives it. And by the promise of His words, the bread and wine become His Body and Blood. He returns this greatest of gifts to us when we come forward to receive Holy Communion, and we are enriched by His grace and the gift of eternal life.

Blessings and Merry Christmas, Father Bill
