Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: This week, our light imagery shifts a bit. We've been hearing for weeks about God being light for those who walk in darkness. Here, Jesus tells us that we, too, can become light for others. Our participation in God's will—in enacting justice and compassion—allows us to also participate in the beauty of God. We don't create anything new here; the light is not our own. Rather, we reflect God's light out to the world, amplifying it and making it more visible. We spread God's goodness to corners it may not have reached. We see this image clearly at baptism, when a light from the paschal candle is handed to the newly baptized. We are charged with carrying Christ's light into the world wherever we go, thus giving others reason to glorify God.

To Experience: Performing works of mercy does not always look or feel good. This work is very often thankless, unglamorous, and inconvenient. The light we become is not the literal kind others can see; it takes practiced eyes of faith to see this sort of light. God reassures us, though, that these good deeds are beautiful in God's eyes and are worthy of our time.

The 2023 Bishop's Appeal kicks off this weekend throughout the diocese. However, since Fr. Bill is scheduled to be out of town our parishes will kick off the Appeal the weekend of February 11 & 12.

Watch your mailbox this week for a letter from Bishop Ricken as an invitation to share a gift for this year's Appeal.

As you consider sending your gift to the diocese, please remember to include your parish name (and city—there is more than one Holy Trinity Parish in our diocese) so credit is properly given.

Fr. Bill will share more information at Masses on our kick off weekend.

Year of Mary
October 1, 2022 to December 8, 2023

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

In northern Israel, there is a lighthouse in the middle of the desert. Since deserts are unusual places for lighthouses, it begs the question: why would you expect to find a lighthouse there? Truth be told, I am exaggerating a bit. The northern area of modern Israel, which we call Galilee, is much drier than Wisconsin, it is hardly a desert. And the lighthouse that I am speaking of is not an aid to navigation, but rather the great church of the Basilica of the Annunciation that is built over the site of Mary's house in Nazareth. The architect of this great church intentionally designed the dome to be a great lighthouse, a light that can be easily seen from anywhere in Nazareth and even beyond.

Lighthouses have two functions. They direct ships into safe harbors and warn them of hazards on the sea. Christ called himself the Light of the World (see John 8:12). By this he meant that we should look to him to be the light by which we navigate our lives. His word is a sure guide that warns of the dangers of the world, the flesh and the devil. Just as the light of a beacon cuts through the gloom of a deep fog, his words are a light of hope that cuts through the dark gloom of sin, death and despair. And it is by his light, and his light alone, that guides us safely into the harbor of heaven.

What is even more amazing is that he calls us to be light too. In this Sunday's Gospel, he calls us with these words, "You are the light of the world." He tells us that we cannot hide the light of the Gospel under a bushel basket, but rather we must be a lamp set on a lampstand to give light to the whole world. Christ's language is strong here. He is not making a recommendation or a suggestion about sharing the Light of the Gospel. Rather he is making it clear in no uncertain terms that every Christian is required to share the Light of the Gospel with others.

These words naturally make most of us uncomfortable. The wider culture discourages us from sharing our faith with others. Although the faith is deeply personal, it is not a private matter. Not only does Christ require us to be a light unto others, but the world is also desperately in need of us to share the Light of Christ. Our world is filled with fear of war and rumors of war, confusion, despair, and pessimism. If Christ has conquered death, can he not also conquer war and violence? If Christ has conquered death, can he not also conquer despair and pessimism? Can he not be the light of clarity in times of confusion? The answer to all these questions is a YES. And we are called to proclaim Him in whom we believe and in whom we place our trust.

Let us be confident that through the power of our baptism we share in his victory. Let our confidence be bold, that through the gift of His Spirit, our words and actions may proclaim that Christ is the light.

*Blessings,
 Father Bill*

Area Parish Events & Faith Formation Opportunities

Preparing for Lent

• Palm Collection

Last year's palms are being collected in boxes at the entrances of both churches through February 19.

• Little Black Books

The Little Black Books for Lent will be available beginning the weekend of February 11 & 12. There will be no charge for the books but free-will offerings will be accepted to help defray costs.

• Lent Prayer Partners

This year as part of our Lenten mission, we ask that you pray for each other. At Mass on the weekend of February 18 & 19, families attending will be asked to take a notecard with the names of parishioners on them. Please pray throughout Lent for your brothers and sisters in Christ. The basket will contain names of parishioners from both parishes. Extra cards will be available at the Ash Wednesday Masses.

Live Lent 2023

Ash Wednesday Masses (February 22)

8am at Holy Trinity
6pm at St. Gregory

Available beginning
Ash Wednesday—
Pick yours up at Mass!

Lenten Devotions

• Stations of the Cross & More

Both parishes will offer Stations of the Cross with the Bread & Soup dinners to follow. New this year, Holy Trinity will also be offering a Mass at 4:30pm, before Stations. A brief, 3 minute video clip of 'Food for Thought' will also be shared at the gatherings. The days of devotion for each parish will remain the same as past years—Wednesday at St. Gregory and Friday at Holy Trinity. More details will be shared in the upcoming weeks. Stay tuned.

• Holy Hour Offerings

Throughout Lent, Holy Hour will be offered immediately following weekday Masses (except for Tuesdays).

Monday—Holy Trinity
Wednesday—St. Gregory
Thursday—St. Gregory

SALT AND LIGHT

Jesus doesn't want us to keep our Christianity a secret. He wants us to tell others about Him! And do you know what the best way is to tell others about Him? It's to do good to others. You are like a bright candle when you are not afraid to let your good deeds shine out so that all can see that you know Jesus. If you live with your light shining, you will be able to help lead people out of darkness and sin and help them to become the light of the world too.

New podcast launches for young adults

BY JEFF KUROWSKI |
THE COMPASS

FREEDOM — When Eve Vanden Heuvel struggled to find podcasts specifically for a Catholic young adult audience, she decided to create her own. The first episode of “The Everyday Saint” was launched on Jan. 6. Vanden Heuvel, 19, will release a new episode each Friday. The motto for the podcast is “Young Catholics inspiring young Catholics.”

“This podcast will be interview based as I invite a young, college-aged Catholic each week to talk about their faith and why it’s important to them,” said Vanden Heuvel. “The intent is to provide inspiration to other young Catholics pursuing faith to continue in their journey and encourage them that there are other Catholics out there just like them.”

Vanden Heuvel, a 2020 graduate of Xavier High School in Appleton, is a sophomore at Benedictine College in Atchison, Kan., where she is currently majoring in theology and secondary education.

She returns to campus for the spring semester after studying abroad in Italy this past fall. Her first podcast guest is Shelby Bland, a Benedictine student from Colorado, who also studied in Italy.

“‘The Everyday Saint’ got its name because I knew I wanted to invite people that are your ‘everyday Saints’ onto the show,” said Vanden Heuvel.

FRANKLY, FRANCIS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

In our continuing catechesis on apostolic zeal, the desire to share with others the joy of the Gospel, we now look to its model and source: the example of Jesus himself.

As the eternal Word of God, made flesh for our salvation, Jesus’ entire life was devoted to communicating and dialoguing with others, first with his heavenly Father in profound prayer, and then with others, especially the poor, the outcast and sinners. He proclaimed the coming of God’s Kingdom not only by his preaching, but also by his ministry of healing, reconciliation and forgiveness. As the Good Shepherd, the model for all pastors in the church, Jesus was completely committed to the welfare of his flock, ...

Gallagher continues to help provide a basic need for Green Bay’s homeless

BY JEFF KUROWSKI | THE COMPASS

DE PERE — Delaney Gallagher not only appreciates all donations to Long Johns for St. John’s, the seasonal collection effort she founded in 2020, but also the message provided by the outreach.

“We are sending the message to the guests of St. John’s Homeless Shelter (in Green Bay) that our community cares about them and we want to make their winter more manageable,” she said. “I think that is so important, ... that message for the shelter guests to know that people care about them offers dignity and hope.”

Gallagher started Long Johns for St.

John’s after hearing that St. John’s needed socks. She thought that she could help by organizing a collection. Shelter staff informed her that thermal underwear — also known as “long johns” — was a greater need, thus the name of the campaign.

5 THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

The Presentation of the Lord

BY PATRICIA KASTEN | THE COMPASS

1 The feast of the Presentation of the Lord is celebrated Feb. 2, 40 days after Jesus' birth.

2 A firstborn son was brought to the Temple in Jerusalem on his 40th day to offer him to the Lord and then redeem him back. The redemption price was a lamb, or two turtledoves or pigeons for poor parents.

3 In Eastern Catholic and Orthodox churches, the feast is called Hypapante tou Kyriou – "the meeting of the Lord."

4 At the Temple, the Holy Family met Simeon, an aged priest, and Anna, an elderly widow and prophet.

5 The day is also called Candlemas because people have candles blessed then in honor of "the Light of the World."

Becoming teachers of the next generation

I like to fix things. For me, it is an absolute thrill to take something which is broken, damaged or worn out and bring it back to life. I suppose that I learned how to do this when I was very young since I come from a long line of "fixers." The example given to me by my father and my grandfather of mending, fixing and restoring broken things has stayed with me to this very day.

BY THE RIVERS OF BABYLON

Fr. John Girotti

Recently, I was visiting my octogenarian father and helping him around his new home. He has only been in the place for six months and things still need to be arranged to his liking. As I was helping him, and we were working together with our four hands, he stopped and looked at me, and quietly said, "Son, how did you learn how to do all of these things? You can fix everything." And his question shocked me so much I could hardly respond. "Dad," I haltingly responded, "you taught me ...!" And he looked at me ... and smiled.

In our technological and electronic age, there is a mistaken sense that intelligence is based solely on our ability to look up an answer online. This is not really intelligence, but a skill more properly akin to the actions of a well-trained seal. Real intelligence has to be taught, and for this, we need a teacher, a mentor or a coach. Somebody had to teach us how to read, how to spell and how to walk. We are born with varying abilities, of course, but none of us came to what we are now ...
