Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: This gospel can feel damning and demanding. Jesus affirms that the commands of Mosaic Law still stand, and also reveals that by-the-book obedience to them is not enough. Righteousness is not just a checklist we can tick off; unfortunately, not a measurable accomplishment. The orientation of our hearts matters more than the externals of our actions. This is challenging. But really, Jesus is issuing a loving invitation. He is calling us to health and wholeness as we live out God's Law. Changing our hearts is hard to measure, but it helps us more than it helps anyone else. Leaving behind sinful actions is one thing, but when we are able to move past the anger and lust that motivate such actions we are able to live in fuller freedom and joy.

To Experience: Many of us at some time or another struggle with the moral teachings of the church, especially when leaders teach them without integrity. It is demoralizing to receive challenging teachings from people who themselves are not able to live by them. But what Jesus really wants for us is healing and freedom from the things that hold us back from the fullness of life with him. As you read this gospel, can you hear Jesus reissuing these teachings not as a way to control but as a loving invitation?

The Deacon's Book Report

Have you ever listened to the readings at Mass and realize that there is more to the story than what is being read? Have you ever wondered how all of the readings fit together?

I have to admit that when I first dove into reading the Bible I went in feet first without any plan. I hoped that when I hit the water, whatever God wanted me to know would wash over me. That turned out to be an okay plan. However, when I truly felt moved to not just read Scripture, but to study it, I needed a guide or an outline. A book that is really helpful is New Testament Basics for Catholics by John Bergsma.

It gave me an overview and an outline for each of the Gospels. It helped me to see that each Gospel was written for a specific audience. They are not just a collection of the stories Jesus told or a history of what He did. The Gospels are written in a purposeful and inspired way. Sometimes though, we can miss a lot because we do not know the "backstory". We miss the obvious clues in scripture. This is where this book is really helpful. The author gives so many nuggets of information and a lot of the Old Testament "backstory". This book was easy to follow and was extremely interesting.

One example I found interesting was the very first line in The Gospel of Matthew that we hear just about every Christmas Eve. Matthew begins, "The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham." In this very first line Bergsma explains that Matthew has connected Jesus to three of the most important men in the Bible - Adam, David, and Abraham. This line fulfills the Old Testament prophecies of the coming of the Messiah.

When Matthew says, "The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ," there is only one other place in the Bible where we hear this phrase. In Genesis we hear, "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Matthew is telling us Jesus is the "The New Adam".

When Matthew calls Jesus "The Son of David," we should pay attention to the word "the". Matthew didn't say "A Son of David". David had many, many sons and descendants. Jesus isn't just a son, Jesus is "The Son".

Matthew also called Jesus, "The Son of Abraham". Again using the word "the" instead of "a" Matthew is telling us Jesus is the one whom God spoke to Abraham about when He said, "I will establish My covenant with you and with your seed after you, and by your seed shall the nations of the earth be blessed." (Did you ever think by using "The" instead of "A" would make a world of difference?)

(John Bergsma also wrote Old Testament Basics for Catholics and Psalms Basics for Catholics which are also very helpful.)

There are many more examples, and I cannot say enough good things about this book. So if you want to dig deeper into scripture, if you want help uncovering nuggets of information that will help you understand the early Church and people of a different time, or if you want to better understand how the Words of Christ can change your life, this is a book I highly recommend.

Viva Christo Rey,
Deacon Mary

The Memorare

The Memorare is a prayer invoking the intercession of our Blessed Mother. Its origins may date from the 12th century, but we know it has been widely used since the 17th century. It is appropriate for use at any time, but is especially appropriate during times of difficulty or distress.

"Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired by this confidence, I fly unto thee, O virgin of virgins, my Mother; to thee do I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. Mother of the Word incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me. Amen."

Continue your walking routine by moving indoors to the SG Parish Community Center. Trade the brisk winds and icy pavement for dry floors and comfort.

Parish Center Hours: Monday-Friday (8am-noon)
Monday-Wednesday (12:30pm-4pm—please call ahead).

*Open to all parishioners and community members.
Tell your friends—or better yet, walk together!*

Preparing for Lent

• Palm Collection

Last year's palms are being collected in boxes at the entrances of both churches through February 19.

• Little Black Books

The Little Black Books are here. Pick one up at the back of church or from the parish office. There will be no charge for the books but free-will offerings will be accepted to help defray costs.

• Lent Prayer Partners

This year as part of our Lenten mission, we ask that you pray for each other. At Mass on the weekend of February 18 & 19, families attending will be asked to take a notecard with the names of parishioners on them. Please pray throughout Lent for your brothers and sisters in Christ. The basket will contain names of parishioners from both parishes. Extra cards will be available at the Ash Wednesday Masses.

BISHOP'S APPEAL IMPACT. CATHOLIC CHARITIES

"If you choose you can keep the commandments, they will save you; if you trust in God, you too shall live; he has set before you fire and water to whichever you choose, stretch forth your hand." Sirach 15:15-16

In today's readings, we heard much about following God's commandments. Life is full of choices. As human beings we don't always make the best choices. We are human. We fall down. We make mistakes. Sometimes we pick ourselves up, other times it is harder to move on. Sometimes we forgive, other times we can't. Sometimes, we just need help to figure things out. Together we are Sharing the Light of Christ, His love and mercy.

When life is difficult,
we are here for you.
Catholic Charities (920) 272-8234

Maybe you know somebody who needs help working through a problem. Catholic Charities is a great place to refer people, it's hard to believe all the amazing counseling services they provide. They offer a light to people in darkness. Mental health issues, poverty, debt management, bankruptcy, drug or gambling addiction, pregnancy, adoption and parenting support, family conflict — Catholic Charities helps people resolve problems and make better choices.

Your gift to the Bishop's Appeal makes a tremendous difference to Catholic Charities. They are in a position to change or even save people's lives. To make a gift contact our parish office, use the letter and pledge you received at home or visit the Bishop's Appeal website at www.catholicfoundationgb.org/give.

Sharing the Light of Christ

Many of our brothers and sisters struggle with stress, depression, loneliness and financial insecurity.

Through it all, Catholic Charities continues to care for those in need.

With your support of the Bishop's Appeal, you will help us serve even more people across the diocese.
