Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: The transfiguration is a mysterious thing; it reveals something about who Jesus is but leaves the disciples (and us) with as many questions as answers.

There is both light and shadow in the moment of revelation. We may wish that God would communicate more directly with us; we ask for signs and signals to indicate God's will. Here, though, the disciples who do actually hear God's voice fall to the ground in fear. God does not say anything terribly challenging; the voice in fact affirms that they are doing well in entrusting their lives to Jesus. But there is something about it that overwhelms them. Encountering God in all God's mystery and wildness is not always a reassuring prospect; we are never ready for the ways in which God might call us to change.

To Experience: We do not often hear the voice of God as explicitly as the disciples do in the gospel. For most of us, God tends to speak in whispers and hints. This does not mean that God is any less present, but it does make God's presence less obvious. Following God's will for our lives is not always as easy as it is for Abram, who receives clear and direct instructions. For us, it is a matter of learning the tools of discernment so that we can hear God's voice—and remain assured of God's loving presence—as we piece together our paths in life.

1. What helps to reassure you of God's presence when it is not obvious?
2. What helps you listen to the voice of God, especially when—as is most common for most of us—God is speaking in whispers and hints?
3. Where in your life of faith do you need patience with God? What would help you to faithfully wait for God, who does not often work on the timelines we would have chosen for ourselves?

Year of Mary
October 1, 2022 to December 8, 2023

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

In the Roman liturgical tradition, the transfiguration of Jesus is always read on the Second Sunday of Lent. This year, we will hear the version from the Gospel of Matthew.

No detail is wasted in the words of Holy Scripture, especially in the Gospels. Pay attention to two details that could otherwise easily be missed: "Jesus took Peter, James and John, and led them up a high mountain (1) by themselves (2)" (Matthew 17:1).

Why was the Transfiguration on a mountain? After all, it could have been on a plain or along the seashore. These were all common places for Jesus to meet his disciples. There are two reasons. Mountains are privileged places of encounter between God and his people. Abraham took Isaac up a mountain. It was on Mount Sinai that Moses encountered God in the burning bush and later received the Ten Commandments. So Jesus is taking his chosen disciples up a mountain to encounter God. Following the disciples up the mountain, we prepare our hearts for an encounter with God.

Mountain climbing involves effort. Peter, James, and John had to work to see the transfiguration of Jesus. Anyone who has ever hiked a mountain knows that the view from the top is worth the effort. During Lent, we voluntarily submit ourselves to penances and sacrifices that require effort and perseverance. We seek a greater reward than a stunning view. We are motivated to overcome our temptations and to draw closer to God. The reward is greater internal freedom and a nearer closeness to God. The more seriously that we apply ourselves to Lent, the greater the joy of the Resurrection celebration. As Catherine of Siena said, "nothing great is ever achieved without much endurance."

Secondly, Jesus took them up the mountain by themselves. He took them away from the crowds. He took them away from the burdens of the daily routine. They had to be alone with him and lifted out of their ordinary existence to see him shining brightly.

This is an important aspect of Lenten spirituality. We leave the crowds behind to be alone with Jesus. This means devoting extra time to be alone with God. Instead of spending time watching videos and TV shows, or listening to podcasts, we take that time to be alone with God. We deliberately seek silence and quiet. When we are alone with the Lord, we get a true sense of his nearness and powerful presence.

Lent should disrupt our daily routine. Routines are good since they help us to navigate our environment efficiently, but they also dull our awareness. We stop noticing. Our Lent resolutions shake things up a bit, and with that shake up, we grow aware of God's presence. We don't need to worry that our daily commitments will be left unfulfilled. After all, Jesus takes them back down the mountain (referring Matthew 17:9). They return to the crowds and to their daily commitments. Yet now they are now strengthened by the mountaintop vision. So, it is with Lent. We must return to crowds and our daily routine, but we return fortified by the graces we have received and encouraged by a stronger sense of the Lord's mysterious presence.

CRS Rice Bowls— Soccer and a Broken Reservoir

In the Dry Corridor of Honduras, climate change causes persistent drought, making farming nearly impossible. With support from Catholic Relief Services, Rony, a farmer, repaired an old reservoir and installed a new irrigation system to improve his harvests. Now Rony can send his son to a soccer academy to pursue his dream of becoming a professional player. How can you work like Rony to support others' needs and dreams? Visit csrricebowl.org to learn more.

Celebrating St. Patrick's Day— March 17 happens to fall on a Friday in Lent. I further prescribe that those who make use of the dispensation engage in another sacrificial, penitential, spiritual, or charitable act that day, such as praying the Rosary for the intention of vocations, participating in the Stations of the Cross, making a Holy Hour, or donating the cost of the meal that day to the Rice Bowl initiative.
