Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: This gospel has one of Jesus' familiar reversals of our expectations for this world. He states that the visible religious leaders of his time are not, in fact, in favor with God. Their misguided love for recognition and honor outweighs their love for God. They seem to hold power—and by earthly standards, they do—but they are not enacting the true power that is available to all of us. This power is God's gift and enables us to enact God's will. It doesn't look much like power, though; it rather looks a lot like servanthood. Jesus tells his followers to humble themselves, because humility is the basis of true exaltation in God's ordering of things. This humility is found in unity, joined as brothers and sisters under one loving teacher and father and master.

To Experience: We don't always get to see the promise of this gospel played out; too often in this life, it seems that those with power only get more power and those without only fall further and further. Our sinful structures are cyclical by nature, and these cycles can seem insurmountably hard to break. But sometimes cycles are broken: parents can break intergenerational cycles of abuse and trauma, for instance, by sacrificing a power-based relationship for one based on love.

1. What does humility mean to you? How do you live it out in your life? How do you struggle with it?
2. Have you know any great examples of servant leadership? What did you learn from them?
3. Both the gospel and the first reading call for unity. Are there people in the church with whom you would rather not be in communion? How might God be calling you to reconciliation with them?

Year of Mary
October 1, 2022 to December 8, 2023

"I appeal to you therefore, brothers, [a] by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship."
 Romans 12:1 (ESV)

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

What is the first thing you do when you wake up in the morning? Do you check your phone or hit the snooze button? Or do you start your day by acknowledging the presence of God and offering Him everything that you are and have?

For many Catholics, the Morning Offering is a prayer that helps them begin their day with God in mind. The Morning Offering is a prayer that consecrates oneself to Jesus Christ through the Immaculate Heart of Mary. It expresses the desire to unite one's thoughts, words, actions, joys, and sufferings with the sacrifice of Jesus in the Mass, for the glory of God and the salvation of souls. It also entrusts oneself to the care of Mary, who is the mother of Jesus and our mother in the order of Grace.

The Morning Offering is not a new prayer. It has been practiced by many saints and faithful Catholics throughout history. It is promoted by the Apostleship of Prayer, a worldwide movement that promotes a daily spiritual communion with Jesus and His mission.

The Morning Offering can be prayed at any time of the day, but it is most fitting to pray it as soon as possible after waking up. This way, we can dedicate our whole day to God and make every moment an opportunity to serve Him and love Him. The Morning Offering helps us to grow in virtue and holiness, as we strive to imitate Jesus and Mary in everything we do.

The Morning Offering is a simple but powerful prayer that can transform our lives. By praying it daily, we become more aware of God's presence and action in our lives. We also become more generous and faithful in offering ourselves to Him and cooperating in His mission of saving souls.

If you have not yet made the Morning Offering a part of your daily routine, why not start today? There are a number of different versions of the Morning Offering. This weekend after Mass, prayer cards with the version used by the Apostleship of Prayer will be distributed after Mass, but you can use any version that appeals to you or create your own. The important thing is to pray the Offering with sincerity and devotion. You can also invite your family and friends to join you in this prayer. By doing so, you will be giving God the gift He desires most: yourself.

*Blessings,
 Father Bill*

P.S. I will continue my series on the Catholic funeral liturgies next week.

Marriage takes work. Marriages can slowly fall apart as a result of small bad choices. Divorce might seem like the solution but it ultimately scars both parties. This movie shows what Biblical love looks like. We are shown struggles to emulate the selfless love and service of Jesus by loving and serving his or her spouse, as Jesus would.
