Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: Here Jesus ends his time on earth—at least as an embodied human. He remains with us, of course, in the sacraments and in the gift of the Holy Spirit, but this moment marks a turning point for his followers. This could be a fearful moment, but in this account they receive it in joy, seeing his ascension as confirmation of his identity and returning to Jerusalem to praise God in recognition of the great gifts they have received. Jesus prepares them to preach his good news, but he tells them to wait—the “power from on high,” the gift of the Holy Spirit, is still to come. There is a waiting period, an in-between time, before they will be ready to fulfill their mission.

To Experience: The account of the ascension in Acts does not show the same joyful response from the apostles that we see in the gospel. They rather seem puzzled, staring at the sky after Jesus’ departure. There is room for mixed emotions as we strive to follow Jesus. Many of his teachings are both hard and life-giving.

1. Why do you think there are ten days between the Ascension and Pentecost? What is the purpose of a waiting period before the apostles are sent out to fulfill the mission Jesus has given them?
2. What does it mean to you to be a witness? How do you bear witness to the work God has done in your own life?
3. The psalm tells us again and again that the proper response to God’s loving reign is to sing praise. How do you feel about singing in liturgy? Does anything hold you back from full participation in its musical elements?

Hear to Serve

PRESENCE

Our great-niece recently celebrated her fifth birthday. Even though the invitation said “No gifts,” there were plenty for her to open. She sat in a pile of wrapping paper and said, “This is a day of presents!” Today is a day of presents for us. Maybe, I should say it is a day of presence.

Luke tells us in his Gospel how the Apostles accompanied Jesus the two miles from Jerusalem to Bethany. When they arrived, Jesus blessed them. Then, “He parted from them and was taken up to heaven.” Jesus was truly gone but the Apostles were not sad. They returned to Jerusalem and were, “continually in the temple praising God.” Why were the Apostles so filled with joy when Jesus left them for the last time? The Apostles were experiencing a day filled with presents!

The first gift was the mission to preach “repentance for the forgiveness of sin” in His name and to be witnesses to all nations. This was followed by His words, “I am sending the promise of my Father upon you.” This is the powerful gift of the Holy Spirit.

The next gift is His presence in the Church. In his Letter to the Ephesians, Paul says that Jesus is, “head over all things to the church, which is His body.” He is physically present, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity, in the Eucharist. Jesus dwells within us in the most powerful and intimate way and we become the Body of Christ.

Jesus is also present in the Sacrifice of the Mass in the priest. He is present in His Word when it is proclaimed aloud or when we read and study it at home. Jesus is present to us whenever and wherever we gather together in His name in prayer and praise. The power of Jesus is present in all of the sacraments. We know that whenever someone is baptized, confirmed, married, ordained, forgiven of sin, or anointed in sickness, it is Jesus that works through the words, signs, and actions of the sacrament.

As if all of these presents that He gave were not enough, Jesus also gives us the gift of hope. Jesus always had power as God. He now also has power as King of the Universe. Jesus is our savior and our mediator. Jesus gives us hope in our own resurrection and our eternal life.

Jesus said that we will see Him when He comes again. In the meantime, we know He has not left us alone. We have the present of His presence. Let us also be, “continually in the temple praising God.”

Viva Christo Rey, Deacon Gary

Home Missions—Our Own Needs Second Collection—June 7 & 8

This Collection focuses on evangelization in the United States, including here in the Diocese of Green Bay. Thanks to your gift, we can bring Jesus to more people and share the Good News with our brother and sisters across the country.

The following four Catholic agencies help people encounter Jesus, and your support of the Collection makes this possible.

- Black and Indian Mission—The Black and Indian Mission exists to build Christian communities among the Native American, African American, and Alaskan Native people. Every penny collected is distributed as diocesan grants to support and strengthen evangelization programs in the United States. Annually, in our Diocese, we receive grants to assist parishes in Neopit and Keshena with outreach, education, and service to people of the Menominee Indian Tribe.
- The Catholic Communications Campaign—This campaign modernizes how the Church communicates the joy of the Gospel nationwide and locally. Half of all funds collected for the CCC remain in our diocese to support local communication efforts.
- The Catholic University of America—Through the Home Missions – Our Own Needs Collection, you support the National University of the Catholic Church. Your gift enables the University to prepare the next generation of Catholic leadership, both religious and lay. Every donated dollar supports scholarships to financially assist deserving students in completing their education.
- The Catholic Home Missions—The Catholic Home Missions assists 40% of dioceses in the United States. Poverty, distance, difficult terrain, and lack of priests significantly affects the ability of mission dioceses to offer basic pastoral needs. Home Missions provides financial assistance for Mass, sacraments, and faith formation.

Thanks to your support, this consolidated collection will help these agencies build vibrant faith communities. From Catholic media, to religious education, to seminary formation, to lay ministry training, the Home Missions – Our Own Needs Collection brings Jesus to more people in our nation.

The Ascension of the Lord

A Grand Entrance: What the Ascension is Really About

Between the glory of the Resurrection and the fire of Pentecost is an often-overlooked event in the life of Christ and the Church. Forty days after Easter, the Church celebrates the Solemnity of the Ascension, where we read of Christ's bodily ascent into heavenly glory.

Growing up, I never really grasped the importance of the Ascension. It almost seemed like a grand exit with no purpose. This concluding moment in Christ's life was always mentioned but never explained. As I started studying my Catholic faith more in college and began to read and pray on this topic, I discovered my view of the Ascension as a grand exit was far from the truth. Here are four points that help us better understand and experience the significance and beauty of this special day.

The difference between Ascension and Assumption

First, it's helpful to be clear about our terms. As Catholics, we use two different words when speaking of the events in which Jesus and Mary enter heaven, and very often people get these terms mixed up and confused. We speak of Christ's Ascension and his mother's Assumption. The reason for the distinction is because Jesus ascended into heaven by his own power, for he is God in the flesh, whereas Mary is assumed into heaven by the power of God. Both Jesus and his mother enter heaven by God's power, but Jesus is himself the power of God (1 Cor 1:24).

*"We are raised up to heaven
by Jesus Christ,
the power of God.
His Ascension is the promise of our own bodily entrance into heavenly glory."*

Where did Jesus ascend to?

St. Luke tells us that "He was lifted up, and a cloud took him from their sight" (Acts 1:9). At first glance, it might seem strange—Jesus rising higher and higher into the sky. Did Jesus ascend into outer space? Where did his body go?

Luke's wording is specific in saying that a cloud took Jesus from the sight of his followers. Throughout Scripture, the cloud is the symbol of God's presence. For example, God's dwelling in the tabernacle was symbolized by the presence of the cloud (Ex 40:34), and at the Transfiguration, a cloud overshadowed Jesus and his disciples, as God spoke to them (Lk 9:34-35). By saying that Jesus was taken up into a cloud, Luke is explaining that Jesus is entering into the divine presence. I was shocked when I first heard this; it made total sense. Jesus ascends, with his body, into the presence of God in heaven.

Entry of humanity into divine glory

For me, one of the most beautiful points to reflect on is that the Ascension commemorates the entrance of humanity into heavenly glory. Just as we emphasize that Jesus rose bodily from the grave, we insist that Jesus ascended bodily into heaven.

I used to think of it in this way: Jesus comes down to Earth at Christmas and returns to heaven at the Ascension. But the Ascension is not the undoing of the Incarnation, it is the solidifying of the Incarnation for eternity. God has a human body forever.

As the Incarnation, God enters into our humanity. At the Ascension, He raises humanity up to his divinity. The early Church said it like this, the Son of God became man so that sons of men might become sons of God (cf. 2 Cor 8:9).

I always love to ponder how the angels reacted when seeing Jesus in his glorified body entering heaven. The shock of the Incarnation is seeing God on earth, the shock of the Ascension is seeing man in heaven.

The Ascension and Christ's priesthood

The effect of Christ's Ascension into heaven continues to this day and is related to Christ's role as the new high priest. In the Old Testament, the high priest would enter the presence of God in the Temple to intercede for the people of Israel (Lev 16). Christ, our new high priest, enters the heavenly sanctuary, the true dwelling place of God, where he "always lives to make intercession" for all his people (Hb 7:25; 9:24). St. Thomas Aquinas wrote, "The very showing of himself in the human nature which he took with him to heaven is a pleading for us." Jesus Christ, our true high priest, entered the heavenly sanctuary so that we might one day enter, too. I love to reflect on his promise, "And when I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, that where I am you may also be" (Jn 14:3).

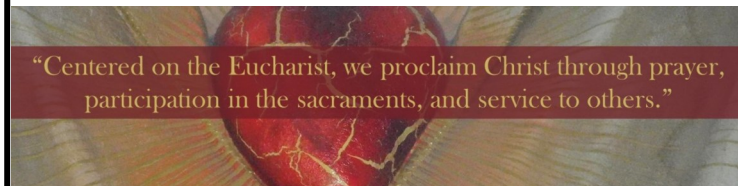

I was wrong to think of the Ascension as a grand exit, it is in fact a grand entrance, the entrance of humanity into divine glory. Today, we are raised up to heaven by Jesus Christ, the power of God. His Ascension is the promise of our own bodily entrance into heavenly glory.
