Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: Jesus gives a shocking instruction in today's gospel reading, one which our twenty-first-century context often sanitizes. Imagine yourself as a first-century Jew, whose tradition forbids the consumption of blood. What would your reaction be to Jesus? Intrigue? Disgust? Or belief? Immediately after today's gospel selection, we are told that many of Jesus' disciples left because of this challenging saying. Throughout the Scriptures, Jesus shares some incredibly difficult things to accept, and many still more difficult to follow. "Love your enemies" (Matt 5:44). "Go, and from now on do not sin any more" (John 8:11). "No one who sets a hand to the plow and looks to what was left behind is fit for the kingdom of God" (Luke 9:62). Today's teaching might be the most difficult to accept. Unless we literally eat the flesh and drink the blood of Jesus, we are spiritually dead. We must receive the body of our Lord, present under the species of bread and wine, and become what we receive. As we prepare to enter the rhythm of Ordinary Time, we accompany Jesus in the Scriptures as he exercises his public ministry, and he accompanies us by the total gift of himself in the Eucharist.

To Experience: When we pray the Our Father, we ask God to give us "our daily bread," not tomorrow's bread. The Israelites in the desert could only gather manna for one day and not for the next. This required them to trust that God would continue to care for them, as God has done. We are also invited to trust in God, as God continues to nourish us with the Eucharist. Only with this trust can the Eucharist truly transform our hearts.

1. Do you find it easy to believe in the presence of Jesus in the Eucharist? Why or why not?
2. What does it look like to be part of a truly "eucharistic" community? How can Jesus in the Eucharist help you to love Jesus in his church?

Our Promise of Eternal Life

This week, as we celebrate the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, we reflect on the profound promise Jesus offers to each of us: "Whoever eats this bread will live forever."

The Living Bread that came down from heaven is not a mere symbol but the very source of our spiritual existence.

When we participate in the Holy Eucharist, Christ actively transforms our lives from the inside out. He sparks eternal life within our souls, promises us the glory of resurrection on the last day, and draws us into a deep, intimate union with the Triune God.

Through this sacred mystery, we are brought directly into the life of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

However, this great gift requires our active response of faith and participation. To truly experience these divine graces, we cannot remain passive onlookers. Jesus calls us to believe firmly in His real presence and to physically eat His Body and drink His Blood.

The Eucharist is our essential spiritual food, meant to nourish us for the journey of life.

This week, let us approach the altar with clean, hungry hearts. Let us allow the Holy Eucharist to restore the life within us, heal our brokenness, and unite us more perfectly with the God who loves us.

Happy feast of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ!

Father Josuva

Holy Hour for Our Nation Friday, June 12

As the United States of America commemorates the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 2026, the USCCB joins this celebration by lifting up the contributions of Catholics and the impact of our faith on the history of this country.

In a historic moment, the U.S. bishops will consecrate the United States to the Sacred Heart of Jesus on June 11, and invite all parishes to join in this consecration.

Bishop Ricken is strongly encouraging all parishes to celebrate the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus on Friday, June 12 for the intention of the consecration of our nation. A special Holy Hour will be held immediately following the 8am Mass at St. Gregory.

We give thanks for the many blessings, especially the gift of religious freedom to worship and proclaim our faith in both word and witness. It is a gift we're called to receive with gratitude and to safeguard with care.

REV. 8/2025

The Most Holy Body & Blood of Christ Sunday, June 7

Reflect: The body of Christ—it's not just what we receive in the Eucharist; it's who we are, together. This feast reminds us of the mystery and intimacy of a God who becomes food for the hungry. Let's not only adore the Eucharist but also recognize Christ in the poor, the broken, and the ordinary bread of our days.

Pray: Jesus, bread of life, thank you for feeding my soul and calling me into communion with you and with all your people. Help me to recognize your presence not only in the Eucharist, but in every face I encounter today.

Act: Make your next meal a moment of holy awareness. Give thanks. Slow down. Let the sacredness of God's provision sink in. Then extend that gratitude outward—share a meal, a smile, or a word of kindness with someone in need.

Journey to the Heart of Jesus

Service: Love in action. As Catholics, we are called to a life of service - to serve others, to serve our neighbors and community, to serve God.

Every skill, talent, and ability is a gift from God. He doesn't give them to us to keep to ourselves, but to bless others and build His kingdom. Grateful for the talents given by God, we believe it is our responsibility to recognize what we have been given, cultivate them, share them with others and improve upon them for the Lord. It is powerful to realize that everything, your life, your talents, even your faith itself, is a gift from God and that he has trusted you to share and invest them wisely. It is this awesome trust and responsibility which calls us to live our lives as stewards.

God gives each of us a unique set of gifts, a way to give back which is all our own. Whether our talents include compassion, counsel, organization, cooking, teaching, communications, decorating, gardening, music, working with youth, finance, or something else entirely there is a way to use that talent in service to God.

Our call to service is an invitation to discern where and how the Spirit is calling us to serve. God has given each of us unique skills and abilities to share. As our talents develop and circumstances change, we listen to how God is calling us to use our gifts. But no matter what, He is calling each one of us!
